McLEOD TELLS MORE ABOUT BIBLE LANDS

Presbyterian Minister Still Maintains Interesting Style of Description of Travels through Holy Countries. Journey into Jerusalem Portrayed.

(Note by Editor: This is the fifth of a series of lectures on the holy lands. The sixth, to be delivered next Sunday evening in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., will appear in next week's Sentinel.)

Through The Heart of Palestine

(By R. L. McLeod, Jr.)

Last week we journeyed from Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee, to Cana where the first miracle was wrought, and continued our journey four miles southward. As we traveled along the crest of the mountain range we rounded a curve and below us in the valley could be seen the city of Nazareth. Immediately we began descending the mountain following the winding but good road. After a few hundred yards, our driver brought the car to a stop pointing out a small monument which marked the traditional spot where the people of the city attempted to cast Christ down headlong, after His first sermon in "the place where He was brought up". We continued our journey obtaining beautiful views of the city and surrounding mountains. As we drove into the city we faced the sign, "Speed limit through Nazareth 10 miles per hour", in the three official languages of Palestine—English, Arabic and Hebrew. Women and girls were at the historic Mary's Fountain drawing water from the four sluices that empty it into the spacious enclosure and balancing the filled water-jars on their heads as easily as our colored mammies of the South balance the baskets containing the week's wash. Soon we were in our hotel with baggage in the rooms. We decided we would take a glance at Nazareth before lunch and started walking up a narrow street. Before we knew it we were in front of the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation, and accepting the invitation of a priest who was standing in the door, we made our entrance. This church is supposed to cover the home of Mary the Mother of Jesus, and they claim to know the exact spot where the Angel made the announcement to Mary, that she was to be the mother of our Lord. This church was built about 350 A. D., destroyed in 636 by the Arabs and again rebuilt by the Crusaders in 1190 A. D.

After lunch we continued our walk about the city, going first to Mary's Fountain, so-called because we know that this has undergone little change since Mary came here for water when Christ was a little baby in her arms. Our walk soon brought us to Joseph's Carpenter Shop, where Joseph, the husband of Mary, carried on his work, and no doubt assisted by Christ as a boy. Today the Near East Relief occupies this shop, and there you see young boys making mallets, collection plates, bowls and many other articles from olive wood which they sell to tourists. Next door to this shop is an old shop where plows were being made, such plows doubtless as men have used in the East from time immemorial—the one-handed plows.

The Outlook from the Hill

Soon we were leaving the edge of the city of Nazareth, afoot, climbing the hill or mountain until we reached the top five hundred feet higher than the lowest part of the city. From this point can be seen one of the grandest panoramic views in Palestine. The high mountains of Naphtali, the snowy dome of Hermon, the Highlands of Bashan and Gilhead, the deep depression of the Jordan Valley. Spreading out through the valley to the south the great plain of Esdraelon, where so many battles have been fought. Bordering this were the high mountains of Samaria and Benjamin, Mt. Carmel and the blue waters of the Mediterranean Sea—all are included in the sweep of vision on the summit of this commanding eminence. This is the one place, as Dean Stanley intimates, where the three sacred mountains, Tabor, Hermon and Carmel, are conjoined in view. As I sat upon a rounded stone gazing upon these views, and drinking in the fresh breeze from the Mediterranean, I was confident that our Lord must often have come here to commune with His Father, to drink in the breeze, and to look over the land where His labors and suffering were to be undertaken for a sinful race. We remained here until sunset and returned to the hotel for the night.

Across Esdraelon

The road from here to Jerusalem follows the course of the ancient highway, over which the Patriarchs journeyed on their way to the South country more than four thousand years ago; and since that time countless hosts, including prophets, judges, kings, conquering armies, caravans and pilgrim bands have trod. By this route also, our Saviour traveled to Jerusalem, the first time, as a boy

TWO GRENADIANS NAMED ON PENITENTIARY STAFF

W. J. Jennings, Jr. and R. M. Wood, both of Grenada, were among those who were included in the list of officers named by Supt. Jim Williamson, of the state penitentiary, the first of the week. Mr. Williamson was appointed by the governor to succeed Dr. L. T. Fox and he immediately made public the names of those to serve under him during 1929.

Mr. Jennings is to be sergeant of Camp No. 1 at Parchman, a negro camp. Mr. Wood is to be his night watchman. Camp 1 is said to be the most desirable of all the penitentiary jobs and the friends of Mr. Jennings and Mr. Wood congratulate them on their being chosen to their respective places. Both have had a deal of experience in handling and dealing with prisoners and should make the state good officers.

Murphree Answers Bilbo's Criticism

Former Governor Pleads Guilty to Charge of Helping Elect Bailey as Speaker. Cites Figures to Show Bilbo Plunging State into Debt.

Former Governor Dennis Murphree has issued the following statement, relative to the statement issued Sunday night by Gov. Bilbo, and it puts before the public the present situation in clear, unequivocal language, from his viewpoint:

"Following his usual custom of going out of his way to make an attack upon me, Bilbo in his statement about the legislature drags in my name and utters a half truth concerning me.

"I have never said that 'every recommendation made by Bilbo would be defeated.'

"What I did say in every speech that I made between the primaries last summer was that already enough of my friends had been elected members of the house to name the speaker. I further said that my friends were going to elect Tom Bailey speaker and that a majority of the house would absolutely refuse to create a state printing plant, set up a vitrified brick plant and put the state convicts to building brick roads.

"Bilbo wore out two bricks lugging them around over Mississippi last year preaching vitrified brick roads just as strongly as he did a printing plant. He 'turned the bricks over,' 'stood them on an end,' and threw away the brick idea all between the time he was elected and the time he took his seat.

"If I had known that he was going to throw away his brick idea and try to get the legislature to issue eighty-two million dollars worth of bonds, with himself to appoint and control the commission which spends the eighty-two millions, I would have also very promptly said that the same house would not accept that scheme.

"Bilbo apparently seeks to charge me with responsibility for Bailey's election as speaker. I gladly admit that both as governor and as an individual, I did everything in my power to secure this result. The truth is that next to Bilbo himself I think I did as much as any other man in Mississippi to elect Bailey, because with Bilbo's opposition and my help he was elected by an enormous majority.

"The governor counts up over a million dollars which he claims to have saved the folks of Mississippi since he became governor.

"The day I went out of the office of governor, the state of Mississippi had a bonded indebtedness of fifteen million dollars.

"Bilbo has been governor eleven months and today the state has a bonded debt of 23 million dollars already sold and four more million authorized. In addition, the governor has been authorized to borrow seven and a half million dollars on short term notes and I see in a newspaper that there will be a deficit of five million dollars.

"It looks to me mightily like it is high time somebody was 'saving' something for Mississippi.

"My thought is that the greatest possible service our governor can render this state is to put in his time from now until the time he brings the legislature back to Jackson in thinking up some kind of a sound financial program which will put money into the treasury of Mississippi rather than further wild schemes to spend."

NEGRO LEADER TO SPEAK

Sutton E. Graves, negro preacher and lecturer of Memphis, and regarded as among the leaders of his race in the southland, is to make an address at the courthouse in Grenada on Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p. m. He comes to Grenada at the invitation of the Negro Progressive Club and is to speak in the interests of the local colored schools.

Graves is an interesting and well-informed speaker and what he has to say should be of interest to the white citizens as well as to those of his own race. The public generally is given a cordial invitation to attend.

Grenada Bulldogs End Fine Season

High School Gridders Lost Only One Game in Season—Win City and Divide District Championship.

On Sept. 8, one week before the opening of school, Coach J. C. Hathorn called the Grenada High Bulldogs out to practice for the battles of the season.

After four weeks of hard drill under the hot September sun, the Bulldogs played their first game with Crenshaw, one of the strongest teams of the district, and won the game by a one point margin. Although this was the first game of the season, the Bulldogs gave the opposing team a hard fight.

After another week of hard practice Coach Hathorn had straightened out some of the kinks that were obvious in the game played with Crenshaw, and the Bulldogs met the strong Water Valley eleven on the Water Valley gridiron and won by a score of 39-6.

In the third game, which was with Charleston, the splendid offense of the Grenada team resulted in an overwhelming victory, score 51-7. This was one of the outstanding games of the season, being played on the North Mississippi Fair Grounds before the largest crowd of spectators during the season.

Grenada considers the fourth game one of the most important of the season. This was with Kosciusko, the 1927 and the 1928 champions of The Big Black District. Despite the fact that the opposing champions outweighed the Bulldogs considerably, Grenada won by a score of 18-0.

After the great victory the home economics department served both teams a delicious banquet, which will long be remembered by the participants.

On Oct. 26 the strong Webb eleven came to meet the brazen Bulldogs on the local gridiron and were defeated by a score of 32-0.

The only tragedy of the season came when the Bulldogs, overconfident and somewhat crippled from the game with Webb, chased over to Drew and suffered the only defeat of the season, the score being 13-6. However, this being out of the district did not disqualify the Bulldogs from participating in the fight for the high school championship of this district.

On Nov. 2 the Golden Hurricane from Oxford came down, accompanied by the high school band and an assurance of victory. However, they were outclassed by the Bulldogs, being defeated by a score of 14-0 and returned home somewhat disappointed. This victory made Grenada the city school champions.

After winning the city school championship in the game with Oxford, it was necessary to play College Hill, the agricultural champions of this district, to decide the regional championship. This game was played on the Ole Miss gridiron, neither side scoring. After the game the officials of both teams decided to share the honor equally, and Grenada gave College Hill the privilege of participating in the game for statewide championship.

The annual Thanksgiving game with Grenada's old rivals, Winona, was played on Wednesday, Nov. 28. This was the outstanding game of the season, due to the rivalry that has always existed between the two teams. Although the field was in bad condition, because of the rain on Tuesday night, the Bulldogs trounced the Winona Tigers and won a decisive victory score 19-0.

Grenada is very proud of the record made by the Bulldogs this year; they have scored 186 points, while their opposing teams have scored only 32 points on them. Grenada has played 9 games, won 7, tied 1, and lost only one. This record is due largely to the untiring efforts put forth by Captain John Williams. In fact, all of Grenada's players were very l'oyal and worked diligently with their coach.

Although the Bulldogs lose six of their efficient players by graduation, they will next year have some good material from which to build a team. The seniors to be graduated are: Lott, Woodson, Irby, Koonce, McFarland and Spruill.

Erle Johnston, who was on the program for an address, consumed but a few minutes' time in begging a postponement of his deliverance.

Rotarian Lewis mentioned the pleasure his club had in entertaining a few weeks ago some of the members of the Grenada club and he said that his club was looking forward to some future time when the two would meet together again.

It was unanimously voted to dispense with the Christmas Day luncheon and to donate the amount paid for meals on that day to the local chapter of the King's Daughters.

E. A. DAILEY LOSES FOOT

The many friends in this section of E. A. Dailey, of Blaine, will regret to learn that he is in a Greenwood hospital where he was taken Saturday afternoon. Mr. Dailey was making the rounds of his place near Blaine Saturday morning and was walking on or near the railroad tracks when he saw a fast train approaching. In attempting to get out of the way his feet slipped in loose gravel, he fell and just barely managed to get his body out of the way but his right foot was so badly crushed and mangled that it had to be amputated.

Mr. Dailey is a brother in law of Mrs. R. Dailey at Torrance and he has a host of friends who hope that he will soon be able to be out and about again.

GRENADA WALLOPS OLD RIVALS IN LAST GAME

With six of the members of the team playing their last game for Grenada High, the Bulldogs won a well earned victory over the Winona High Tigers by a score of 19-0 on Wednesday, Nov. 28. Entering the game somewhat crippled by the loss of two regulars, the Bulldogs carried the fight to the Tigers throughout the game. The sturdy line which has played such a conspicuous part in seven victories this season, speared most of the Tiger plays before they ever reached the line of scrimmage. On offense, it opened holes through which the backs carried the ball for touchdowns and victory. Running behind good interference, the Bulldog backs gained great yardage from scrimmage and only a muddy field kept the score from being more one-sided. The three Grenada touchdowns resulted from a mixture of straight football, intermingled with passes and trick plays.

The Bulldogs put on their best pass offensive of the year, practically every attempt resulting in a complete pass. One feature of the game was a thirty yard pass from Captain Williams to McCaslin, who ran thirty-five additional yards for a touchdown. Another feature was the fifty yard run by Lott after a triple pass behind the line. John Williams, shifted from the line to the backfield, put up a great plunging game.

Although their offensive was never able to penetrate the Bulldog line, the Tigers played good defensive ball, their tackles being hard to take out of the path of Grenada plays. The Tiger offensive was built around Thompson, shifty quarterback, who played the best offensive game for the Tigers.

Lott, one of the best blocking backs of the district, Irby, strong tackle, McFarland and Spruill, dependable guards, Koonce a fine defensive tackle and guard, and Woodson, steady and reliable center, all played their last game for the Bulldogs.

CLASS TO HAVE SUPPER

Friday evening, Dec. 7th, at 7:30 o'clock, the men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian Church will have its annual supper in the dining room of the Masonic Temple after which officers to serve for 1929 will be elected.

We hope for a most enjoyable time and expect every member as well as all men who are inclined to that faith and any man who does not affiliate with any Sunday School to be present.—Reporter.

Bailey, Says Bilbo, Blocked Legislation

Governor Accuses Speaker of House of Representatives as Chief Obstructor of Remedial and Progressive Laws.

"To the People of Mississippi:

"In order to keep the record straight and that you have known the true facts, I desire to make a brief statement about the extraordinary session of the Legislature which convened on the first day of October and adjourned December 1. In a public speech last summer between the primaries, I am reliably informed that Ex-Governor Dennis Murphree declared that if Bilbo was elected governor he could assure the people that in the first primary a sufficient number of legislators were elected to name Tom Bailey as speaker and organize the House and every recommendation made by Bilbo would be defeated. Nothing has been left undone on the part of a few politicians in their efforts to carry out this threat. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House an attempt to defeat every remedial and progressive measure recommended by the governor and passed by the Senate has been made.

"The regular session of the legislature, which met in January, adjourned, as is well known, without providing adequate revenues to pay the appropriations made by the Legislature. It also adjourned without carrying out the promises made by me to the people, under which promises or platform I was elected by a majority of more than ten thousand to establish a state printing plant in order to protect the people from the exhorbitant prices charged by the book trust, and to give to the people a hard-surfaced road program.

"In discharging my duty and obligation to the people, I called the Legislature in extraordinary session and resubmitted these important questions for their consideration. The state Senate patriotically passed a bill for the creation of the purchasing agency that would save at least $200,000 a year of the people's tax money. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House it was killed. The Senate passed a state board of charities bill to supervise and protect the expenditure of close on to a hundred thousand dollars for the privately owned hospitals of the state in the treatment of charity cases. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House it was killed. The Senate passed a state printing plant bill to print our school books to be sold at cost to the people and do state printing. This would alone save the patrons and taxpayers of Mississippi at least $250,000 a year. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House it was killed.

"I submitted to the Legislature an audit suggesting the deplorable conditions that existed in the Tax Commission department and the attorney-general's office. After a hard fight the committee to investigate state officers was designated to make an investigation. This committee proceeded to discharge its duties and twice under the leadership of the speaker of the House the committee's action was repudiated in its efforts to ascertain the truth and stop the waste of the people's money. This committee has already gone far enough into the investigation to find that the attorney-general has been receiving more money than is paid to the president of the United States. It is safe to say now that when the investigation is over it will be shown that the attorney-general's office has received close on to a quarter of a million dollars. Whether right or wrong, remains to be seen.

"This committee and the committee on the fees and salaries both unanimously recommended to the House the passage of a bill to put the attorney-general upon a flat salary which will save, as shown by past experience, from $150,000 to $200,000, during each term of the attorney-general's office. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House the bill was deliberately defeated to save this money to the taxpayers. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House an attempt was made to place upon the people several forms of obnoxious nuisance and tantalizing taxes and after their defeat by my vetoes which were sustained in every instance by the Senate after the House had passed over the veto. Under the leadership of the speaker of the House a resolution was passed to cut the appropriations of the public schools, hospitals and institutions 20 per cent for the year 1929. The Senate refused to entertain such an absurd proposition. Whereupon the Legislature adjourned without making any provision whatsoever for providing adequate means to pay the appropriations; all of which under the leadership of the speaker of the House was supported. The state Senate on two different occasions during this session of the Legislature passed good roads bills providing for a hard-surfaced road program for the people of Mississippi to stop the enormous waste that now obtains, which waste amounts to possibly more than $1,000,000 a year; both of these bills were promptly killed under the leadership of the speaker of the House.

"Of course, I don't claim that the governor and the Senate were in every particular and in all things blameless, but I do not hesitate to state that every good, remedial and progressive measure proposed during the last sixty days was deliberately and coldbloodedly defeated, wrecked and destroyed under the leadership of the speaker of the House. Now I want to state in this connection that throughout the entire session Tom Bailey, as the head and leader of the House, which was organized by him, has never offered one bill, made one suggestion nor one speech in the interest of any measure that was remedial and progressive in its character. His time has been devoted exclusively in conducting the worst wrecking crew that has ever been found in the legislative annals of the state. I do not mean to censure the rank and file of the membership of the House. There are many good and true men and it is evident to my mind and to all those who have observed the methods of the speaker of the House that he is obsessed with the idea that by defeating all remedial and progressive legislation, during my administration, that it will in some mysterious way elevate him to the great office of governor.

"I regret exceedingly that the people of Mississippi are forced to suffer because of the desperate lengths to which a man's mad ambition will carry him. I still entertain the sincere hope that the great majority of the membership of the House will yet realize that it is better to build than to destroy—that construction is greater than destruction. It is a crying shame that the welfare and progress of the state should be sacrificed under the leadership of any man gone mad with his partisan and political ambition.

"I regret the necessity of calling the legislature back into session that they may have an opportunity to discharge their duty and responsibility of a trusting, confiding and intelligent constituency. The critic and demagogues may cry expenses, but I stand ready to answer this charge. Let me remind the people of Mississippi that through my efforts as governor in using the veto power I have already saved the following amounts:

1.—$10,000 to Walker Wood to be used in paying for state printing at exorbitant prices to his printer friends.

2.—$37,000 for the electric voting machine, which under the leadership of the speaker of the house, an attempt was made to install in the house of representatives.

3.—$100,000 to be used in buying fertilizers for the state farms which would have been waste.

4.—$1,000,000 to be spent by the Insane Asylum Commission, in addition to the $2,500,000 already appropriated for this $6,000,000 institution; making a total of $1,147,000. This amount does not include the saving that will eventually be effected to the taxpayers in putting the attorney's office upon a salary basis.

"If I can succeed in persuading the legislature to establish a purchasing agnecy, a printing plant and a state board of charities, I will be able to save the people about a half a million a year for all time to come and this amount will increase as the state grows and expands. If the legislature will recognize its highway department and inaugurate a system of hard surfaced roads, it will mean a saving, without counting all the bless-

EUGENE COUNTISS HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Eugene Countiss, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Countiss, of Grenada, was seriously injured at an early hour Thanksgiving morning in an automobile accident in New Orleans, La. where he is attending Tulane Medical School. Young Countiss, with a large party of friends, was returning from a social function when their car collided with another. He sustained a fractured skull but physicians say he has a chance to recover. He is in hospital in New Orleans and his father and mother are at his bedside, the former having gone down Friday and the latter going Tuesday of this week.

The Countiss' many friends join in the prayers for the young man's ultimate and complete recovery.

Farmer Is Glad Agents Retained

W. E. Boushe Felicitates over Results of Nov. 24th Election—Says Demonstrators Not to Blame if County Fails to Make Progress.

Editor Sentinel:

It is a satisfaction to me to know that we of Grenada couny saw fit to retain the county demonstrators. Not to have done so would have been a retrogressive movement. The most progressive places and counties all have them. Some have abolished the offices but have always reestablished them. If Grenada county has not kept pace with some of our neighboring counties it is our own fault and not that of the demonstrators.

They speak to us with the experience of the best farmers and best experiment stations and in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom. As long as we stay in the prehistoric rut we can't be helped but if we take our bootstraps, determined to lift out, the demonstrator is here to help us. He can help us just as much as we let him but no more.

As to cutting expenses we pull a leaf from the branch. The drain on taxpayers will waste in other ways. I have never seen an economic movement which in the least was felt by the taxpayers. If we wish to remedy an evil we must strike at the tree trunk and not at the leaf.

Now we have demonstrators. Let us make use of them. Let us have more cows, more hogs and more chickens. Let him help us to find the best markets. Let's all pull together for a better and finer Grenada and Grenada county.

Respectfully,
W. E. BOUSHE.

BOARD REDUCES PAY OF FARM WORKERS

Majority of Supervisors Votes to Reduce County Agent $1800 and Economics Agent $600—Motion to Reemploy Present Agents Loses by 3 to 2.

The Grenada county board of supervisors at its meeting Monday morning defeated by a vote of 3 to 2 a motion to reemploy the present extension workers. The motion was introduced by Kemp Mattingly, supervisor from district 1, and when put to a vote, B. W. Smtih and W. W. Whitaker, members from districts 4 and 5, respectively voting against it; Mr. Mattingly and W. V. Horton, the latter representing district 3, voted for the motion, causing a tie vote. The president of the board, J. H. James, of beat 2, cast the deciding vote against the motion and the offices were thereby made vacant for another year.

Monday afternoon, Supervisor Whitaker introduced a motion to cut the salaries of the county agent and the home economics agent, the former from $3000 to $1200 and the latter from $1800 to $1200, placing both on the same basis. In addition each will draw $1000 annually from the government. Mr. Smith voted with Mr. Whitaker on his motion, Mr. Horton voted against the salary reduction, Mr. Mattingly was absent and not voting. Therefore this order was passed.

It will be remembered that an election was held in the county on Nov. 24 to determine whether or not the agents were to be retained another year and that the election carried by a vote of 413 to 350 in favor of retaining the agents. The terms of the present agents expire Dec. 31.

It is believed that the majority of the supervisors felt that the agents were drawing salaries in excess of the work demanded of them. The agent's salary has been $4000 annually and the economics agent has been drawing $2800. Included in these amounts is the sum allowed each by the government. The majority of the board felt, too, evidently that one should be paid just as much as the other since each has practically the same duties, except that one deals with men and the other with women.

Extension workers claim that no agents can be found to accept the places in Grenada county at the reduced salaries and it remains to be seen whether or not the work will go on.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call to its Heavenly home the spirit of O. L. Kimbrough, Sr., one of our most beloved and faithful members, and

Whereas, Mr. Kimbrough was for many years teacher of our class, during which time he always was so thoroughly familiar with the lesson subject that he was enabled to present to us each Sunday a most instructive and informing Christian message, and

Whereas, his passing is a distinct loss to our class, to our church and to the community as a whole and leaves a place that never can be filled, therefore, Be It Resolved,

1. That we extend to his loved ones our most heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement;

2. That we endeavor to take up the work of the Master where he left off and that we so order our lives that we shall join him some day in that home beyond the skies.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be published in The Grenada Sentinel and in The Baptist Record, that a copy be forwarded the family of our deceased friend and brother and that a copy be spread on the minutes of our class.

Do Not Pay Cash For Ice Coupon Books

Drivers of our ice wagons are positively forbidden to accept cash for ice coupon books. They are authorized to accept checks only so that we may be enabled to keep a strict account of book sales. Paying by check enables you to keep a record of the payment and may obviate any future misunderstanding.

If you must pay cash wait until we send a collector to you.

If you do not buy a coupon book, cash payments will be acceptable for daily ice purchases. You will help us greatly if you will give us your cooperation.

Railway Prosperity

Advances in the market prices of railway securities which have occurred in the last two years have been assumed to indicate that the railroads generally are enjoying increased prosperity. Unfortunately, they are not. The increased price level of their securities is primarily caused by the unprecedented buying of securities generally, and the prices of railway securities have increased much less, as a rule, than the prices of industrial securities.

Measured in relation to the investment in their property, the railroads of the country netted much less in 1927 than in 1926, and so far in 1928 they have netted even less than in 1927.

This decline in the rate of railway net earnings strikes at the roots of our national prosperity. It must be checked if the railroads are to be maintained in their full vigor of usefulness. General prosperity depends more than is sometimes realized upon the service the railroads perform, the employment they provide, the purchases they make and the returns they yield to their owners.

When railway earnings decline, the continuance of good service is endangered. Railway managements are forced to reduce payrolls and purchases. Operating and maintenance expenditures are cut down, and improvements are curtailed if not discontinued altogether. Dividends are reduced or wiped out. The result is quickly felt in every industry and every home.

On the other hand, when their earnings are adequate, the railroads are able to maintain their properties at a high degree of efficiency, carry on necessary improvements, employ the maximum amount of labor, make liberal purchases of equipment and other supplies and reward their owners in a manner that encourages the flow of needed capital into the railway business. The result is a quickening of industry and trade throughout the country.

Two influences have caused the recent decline in railway net earnings in the face of rigorous economy on the part of railway managements. One is the increased patronage of competing means of transportation subsidized out of the public treasury. The other is the constant whittling away of railway rates, seemingly inconsequential in individual cases but large in the aggregate, that is going on all the time. The power to check these tendencies lies with the great body of users of railway service, who will suffer most if they are not checked.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. DOWNS,
President, Illinois Central System.

THE EXTENSION WORK AGAIN.

The supervisors at their December meeting Monday demonstrated once again that there are more ways than one of skinning a cat when they, by a vote of 3 to 2, decided not to reemploy the present extension agents for another year. As we understand it, there was no criticism of the work of the agents now employed but this action was taken as a sort of preliminary—a clearing away of the brush as it were—to another order later passed reducing the agents' salaries. In other words, the offices were declared vacant, the salaries were cut and the demonstrators now in the county's employ may apply for reelection, if they wish, at the lower salaries.

From what we are able to gather from the extension forces, the board's actions practically nullify the offices, the agricultural workers declaring that no agents can be found to take the positions at the compensations fixed by the board. The county agent, whose salary has been $4000 annually, $3000 from the county and $1000 from the government, will receive $2200, a reduction of $1800 on the part of the county; the home demonstrator, who has been paid $2800, $1800 by the county and the remainder by the government, is to get $2200, a cut of $600; the negro demonstrator's salary remains unchanged.

The election held in the county Nov. 24 to ascertain the will of the voters as to whether or not the agents were to be retained carried in favor of the agents by a majority of 63 votes, little more than 40% of the electors voting. The three members of the board who favored the reduction in salaries may have been seeking to abolish the offices by their act; on the other hand, they may have had their ears to the ground and may have felt that, notwithstanding the election results, the majority of Grenada county citizens did not wish the work continued.

As it now stands, the home economics agent, if one be employed, will receive $2200 annually, much more than the average high school teacher is paid. The county agent will receive the same, $183.33 monthly. There's quite a difference between this amount and $333.33 monthly, but still the salary is not one to be sneezed at. It seems only fair that both should be paid the same since the duties of one are no more onerous than those of the other.

The chances are that Grenada county will have no demonstrators and the election on Nov. 24 might as well have not been held.

of twelve, on that memorable journey to attend the feast. In this section of the "hill country" every valley and slope and ruin-crowned hilltop teems with sacred associations. After a short journey over a fertile farming area we drive into village of Shunem,—where the army of the Phillistines were encamped before the defeat of King Saul, and where the Shunemite dwelt who entertained the prophet Elisha so hospitably. We pass in sight of the ruins of Nain and Endor, but did not enter them. I noticed along our road telegraph poles of iron instead of wood, showing the scarcity of wood in Palestine. As we sped along we saw great clouds resting above the great Gilboa range on which King Saul and the princely Jonathan went down to death, the hopes of Israel with them. Jezreel on its rocky eminence came into view. Ahab made it one of his two capitals and Naboth's vineyard was there. From the palace window at Jezreel the haughty Jezebel was roughly thrown to be trodden under horses' hoofs and eaten by dogs.

From the ruins of Jezreel can be seen five passes or rather five plains each bordered by mountains on two sides. Our guide here pointing them out to us says: In this pass Barak concentrated his army for battle, and here centuries later Napoleon won a fruitless victory; down the second the terrified hosts of Sisera fled in wild confusion. In the last one, Gideon utterly defeated the hosts of Midian, driving them with great slaughter down the valley to the fords of the Jordan.

The journey then continues through hilly country, and we come into the mountain rimmed plain of Dothan, where Joseph's brethren were keeping the flocks when the lad delivered to them the message of their father. It is still

(By Mrs. E. R. Proudfit)

Class Entertains.

On Tuesday night the members of Mrs. Willie Mae Dubard's Sunday School class entertained with a most enjoyable banquet at the Dixie Cafe. Christmas decorations were used on the table and little holly wreaths served as place cards. Each guest found an appropriate Christmas favor at her plate, which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Miss Beatrice Hamill, president of the class, acted as toastmistress and the following guests gave two-minute speeches: Miss Mary Jeffries, Mr. Knox Pierce and Mr. Lafayette Atkinson.

Salted nuts and mints in little Christmas baskets were at each guest's place. A most delicious three-course supper was served to the following members of the class and their guests: Mr. and Mrs. Knox Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Atkinson, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Holder, Mrs. Willie Mae Dubard, Mrs. E. G. Mohler, Mrs. Hugh Seales, Mrs. Lucille Hornor, Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Douglass, Misses Mary Jeffries, Lynn Dunavant, Beatrice Hamill, Estelle Turner, Alleen Ramsay and Frankie Williams, Miss Jeter, Miss Boswell, Miss Cunningham, Miss Lizzie Horn, Miss Floye Wood, and Mr. Pittman.

20th Century Club Meets

The Twentieth Century Club met in its regular bi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. A. Penn. There were ten members present and one visitor and a splendid program was carried out. The subject for the afternoon's study was "Earning and Saving as Factors in the Development of Character", Mrs. Bruce Newsom giving the paper from Dr. Berle on this topic. Mrs. E. B. Provine gave an interesting paper on "Earning" and Mrs. Alney McLean one on "Saving". A general discussion of the subject, including allowances and paying children for their services, was held, and many good and helpful points were brought out.

Mrs. D. N. McCleery then favored the club with two lovely piano solos, "Etude" by Liszt, and "Cracadienne Fantastique" by Paderewski.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 18, the place to be announced later.

ings that go with hard surfaced roads, of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 a year throughout all the years to follow. I would be thoroughly justified in calling back the legislature every month during the four years of my term of office if I could succeed in persuading the legislature to pass only these bills. All's well that ends well. No sailor cares anything about the storms through which he passed when he arrives safely in the harbor. No general cares about the loss of any battle if he is only permitted to win the last one. With all the earnestness and sincerity of my soul I appeal to the members of the legislature and to the people of Mississippi for their sympathetic and intelligent co-operation in my great desire to serve the people of Mississippi in a big way. I appeal to the members of the legislature who have no doubt been misled to lay aside every partisan, political and personal consideration and join hands with me in building a greater state that our citizens may enjoy peace, prosperity, progress and happiness throughout all the years to come. Come let us reason together.

"THEO. G. BILBO,
"Governor."

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF LAND

By virtue of the provisions of that certain trust deed, dated November 1, 1927, recorded in Book 65, pages 324 and 325, of the Land Mortgage Records of Grenada County, Mississippi, executed by N. B. Smith and Maggie May Smith to the undersigned as Trustee, to secure the payment of a certain indebtedness therein mentioned to John T. Keeton, - default having been made in the payment of said indebtedness, and having been requested by the said Beneficiary, John T. Keeton, so to do, the undersigned Trustee will on Saturday, December 29, 1928,

within legal hours, in front of the East Door of the Court House in the City of Grenada, in said Grenada County, sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, the following described lands in said County:-

1 & 41/100 acres in South-east corner of East ½ of North-east ¼ of Section 35, described as commencing at South-east corner of North-east ¼ of Section 35, and running West 6 & 48/100 chains, thence running North 50 degrees East 7 & 82/100 chains, thence South 4 & 38/100 chains to point of beginning.

(2) Commencing at North-east corner of East ½ of South-east ¼ of Section 35, and running thence West 16 chains and 92 links to a ditch, thence with said ditch South 30 degrees East to Section line, thence North to North-east corner of said eighty acres, being all the land in East ½ of South-east ¼ of Section 35 East of said ditch, and containing 30 acres.

(3) Beginning at South-east corner of North-west ¼ of Section 36, and running thence North 13 & 76/100 chains, thence West 25 & 87/100 chains, thence South 50 degrees West to western line of said Quarter, thence South 4 & 38/100 chains to South-west corner of North-west ¼, thence East to point of beginning.

(4) South-west ¼ of Section 36, and South-west ¼ of South-east ¼ of Section 36; all in Township 22, Range 6, East; intending to describe all the lands conveyed to N. B. Smith by Mrs. A. C. Shelton by deed of record in Book 64, page 383, of Land Deed Records of said County.

Witness my signature, this December 5, 1928.

A. M. CAROTHERS,
12 7 4t Trustee.

POSTED NOTICE

All my lands in Grenada and Tallahatchie counties are posted against hunting and trapping.

SORE Could Not Rest

Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, Lexington, Ky., says:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients.

THOUSANDS GIVING PRAISE TO SARGON

Mrs. J. W. King Now Tells Of Remarkable Results From New Formula.

Never before has such an avalanche of enthusiastic praise been accorded a medicine as that being given to Sargon the new and revolutionary formula recently introduced in this section. Among the grateful thousands who have been restored to health is Mrs. J. W. King, of 834 Saffran St., Memphis, Tenn. She says:

"I suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble most all my life and the past two years, especially, my liver has been inactive and my whole system rundown. I also suffered agony with neuritis which shifted from one part of my body to another. My shoulders and arms pained me so much I could hardly raise my hands to my head. My tongue was badly coated, I always had a bad taste in my mouth and my digestion was so poor food would sour on my stomach and cause me painful discomfort.

"For two years I had to take some kind of a laxative most every night for constipation. I feel sure that a sluggish liver caused most of my trouble. Physicians have told me so. Lots of nights I hardly closed my eyes I was so nervous—the slightest noise would make me jump. I spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and treatments, but got little if any relief.

"But, by the time, I started on my third bottle of Sargon my improvement was noticeable each day and I now have a marvelous appetite. I eat anything I want without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I'm entirely over my nervousness and sleep like a baby. Shopping and going down town doesn't tire me out like it used to. Sargon Soft Mass Pills have entirely overcome my constipation. I wouldn't take one hundred times the price for what Sargon Soft Pills have done for me."

Sargon may be obtained in Grenada from the Corner Drug Store.

UPSET

With Stomach Spells

"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of Sageeyah, Okla. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was good to give the children.

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea.

"They are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headachey', and have a bad taste in my mouth."

In use over 87 years.

Lowrey-Allen.

Batesville, Miss., Dec. 2.—E. Stovall Lowrey of Grenada, and Miss Anna J. Allen of Morgantown, W. Va., were married at the Baptist Church here this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. J. W. Lee, the pastor for 22 years, performing the ceremony. The groom is a son of Congressman B. G. Lowrey and the bride is the secretary to Congressman W. M. Whittington of Greenwood, and is the daughter of Mrs. R. E. L. Allen of Morgantown, W. Va. They will make their home in Grenada.

Mr. Lowrey is a recent addition to Grenada, having recently moved here. He is one of the incorporators of Lowrey Bros., Inc., wholesalers and retailers of candies, etc. He has made a most favorable impression on the community.

The Sentinel joins in wishing for him and his bride much happiness.

Mrs. W. E. Roberts and two young children are in Belzoni for a visit of several weeks with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nelson. They went over Sunday, being accompanied by their husband and father.

Ben Brown, Jr., who has been employed for some months in the Grenada Bank branch at Cleveland, is at home for a vacation of a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Brown, before going to Memphis where he has accepted a position with one of the Memphis banks.

Miss Mary Carothers, who is teaching at French Camp, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Carothers, on Margin Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Umbright and three children, of Chicago, were guests for several days this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker and family in the Oxberry community. Mr. Umbright is Mrs. Whitaker's cousin.

Mr. Chas. F. Goodwin returned a few days ago form his trip through the west and northwest as the representative of one of the country's large shoe manufacturers.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Williamson, accompanied by their two children, James and Marjorie, spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Water Valley with their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fair.

Miss Fay Spears, of Chickasha, Okla., has been the guest for some days of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Grant and family on South Street. She is Mrs. Grant's niece.

The community as a whole will regret to learn that Mr. Van W. Williams had to undergo a major operation in a hospital in Columbus, Ga. Wednesday night. He had gone over there to accompany his wife home, Mrs. Williams having gone over some time ago to welcome her new granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Schilling. Mr. Williams has a host of friends here who hope that he will soon be able to return home completely recovered.

Mr. Thomas Perry left several days ago for Columbus, Ga. where he has accepted a position.

A great deal of matter is crowded out of this issue on account of a rush of last minute advertising. If necessary, an extra number of pages will be run next week so that these things may be used.

a favorite resort of the shepherds when other pastures fail, and we counted several flocks of sheep that day, guarded by the old shepherds. Even today in this plain are several pits or dried-up wells, in any one of which Joseph might have been held captive until the camel train came along. From here we journeyed only a few miles until we were entering resting between Mt. Ebal to the north and Mt. Gerizin to the south. A city associated with Abraham, Jacob, Joseph, Joshua, Jeroboam and the Northern Kingdom, and with the Samaritans of both ancient and modern days. Most of the streets of this city are arched over, and dirty, especially so after Nazareth, the cleanest of Palestinian cities. Shechem, today a city of about 16000 people, many of them working at the industry of the city, making of soap from olive oil. Where the city now stands the people of Israel were once gathered to hear the reading of the law, even before Joshua made full conquest of the land. Here the Samaritan Synagogue is located, with the surviving number of Samaritans being only 163. These people are the only sect in the world who celebrate the Passover in strict accordance with the rules laid down in Exodus. We had an audience with the High Priest who speaks English as well as about ten other languages. He showed us the Pentateuch, which we all doubted to be the famous manuscript copied out by hand by Abishua, the grandson of Aaron. We talked with him at length, and when I left I felt as if I had been saying goodbye to one of the ancient patriarchs.

Jacob's Well

It may be confidently asserted that no spot of ground within the limits of the Holy Land has been more certainly identified than the site of the wayside Well of Jacob at the entrance of the valley of Shechem. A church has covered this spot since the fourth century. To get to the well we had to go through a church and descend the steps beneath the altar in the church. The curb of stone about the well makes the opening about ten feet in diameter, and the "well is deep", over 72 feet to the water. We drank from the well, drawing the water ourselves by a rope with a bucket attached. Here our Lord came one day and talked with the Samaritan woman (Read right now, John 4). The little villages of Sychar and Salim still remain in view of the well.

On to Jerusalem

A long climb over excellent road brought us into the ruins of ancient Shiloh, where the Tabernacle was pitched, where Joshua completed the division of land by lot, where Eli ministered to Samuel; and where the Benjamites caught their brides (Judges 21).

Next Sunday night we will enter Jerusalem and travel about the city.

A BRAND NEW PONTIAC IS COMING!

IN KEEPING with its policy of progress, Oakland has for months been working on a new Pontiac Six. It is more than a refinement of its famous predecessors. It is essentially a brand new car from beginning to end.

Details will be announced later. But this much can be said now. This new Pontiac will represent an even greater innovation today than the first Pontiac represented in 1926! Without departing from the low-price field, it will bring to this field fine-car elements of style, performance and luxury never before provided in a car so inexpensive to buy!
